This book presents a journey through the Cenozoic Era, which began about 65.5 million years ago and continues to today, an era when mammals became most prominent, humans evolved, plant life diversified, and differentiated climate zones became the norm.
- 560.1 MES The Mesozoic era : age of dinosaurs. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2011.
This book presents a journey through the Mesozoic era, examining significant dinosaur species along with other plants and animals that lived during this time.
- 560.1 PAL The Paleozoic era : diversification of plant and animal life. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., c2011. This book presents a journey through the Paleozoic era, examining fossil and geologic evidence from the time revealing a dynamic planet where new species of plants and animals were constantly emerging and continents were breaking apart and reforming.
- 570 CLO A closer look at biology, microbiology, and the cell. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book introduces the branches of biology and the history of biology.
- 571.32 CLO A closer look at plant classifications, parts, and uses. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book describes the significance of the role that plants play in the maintenance of life on Earth.
- 571.6 CEL The cell. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2011. This book explores the discovery of the basic building block of life, the cell, and the modern study of cells which centers largely on investigations of genes and proteins and the individual and collective contributions of these substances to various cellular processes.
- 571.6 PAN Panno, Joseph. The cell : nature's first life-form. Rev. ed. New York : Facts on File, 2010.
Examines the development, structure, and function of the cell, with emphasis on cell division and cell-to-cell communication essential to the development of multicelled creatures.
- 571.8 HOD Hodge, Russ. Developmental biology : from a cell to an organism. New York : Facts On File, 2010.
Examines the relationship among cells, genes, and the environment and of the obstacles and achievements of molecular biologists attempting to understand how to "build" a human body.

- 572 COM The components of life : from nucleic acids to carbohydrates. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2011. This book explores the molecular components of life--nucleic acids, amino acids, proteins, lipids, and carbohydrates as scientists work toward a more complete picture of life.
- 572.86 CLO A closer look at genes and genetic engineering. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book provides an overview of the history of genetics, offers an explanation of how genes work as well as what can happen when genetic defects occur, and explores technologies that harness the power of genetic engineering.
- 574 HOD Hodge, Russ. The molecules of life : DNA, RNA, and proteins. New York : Facts On File, 2009. Examines the basic concepts of organic molecules and what roles they play in the formation of cells and organisms, which begins the process of developing into plants and animals.
- 574.87 HOD Hodge, Russ. The future of genetics : beyond the human genome project. New York : Facts on File, 2010. Examines how sophisticated tools of genetic analysis and manipulation are being developed in laboratories all over the world and the impact they will have on questions that scientists pose about the future.
- 576.8 HOD Hodge, Russ. Evolution : the history of life on earth. New York : Facts On File, 2009. Examines the theory of evolution and the immense impact it has had on society and modern medicine, including DNA, genetics and heredity.
- 577 INV Investigating Earth's desert, grassland, and rainforest biomes. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book examines Earth's desert, grassland, and rain forest biomes as well as the various species that thrive within them.
- 577 INV Investigating Earth's polar biomes. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book describes early expeditions to the two polar regions and the conditions and life that comprise the polar ecosystems.
- 578 CLO A closer look at living things. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book introduces living things ranging from lowly bacteria to stately sequoias.
- 579 CLO A closer look at bacteria, algae, and protozoa. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book explores three important categories of microorganisms--bacteria, algae, and protozoa.
- 579 FUN Fungi, algae, and protists. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2011. This book explores the amazing diversity of fungi, protists, and algae; much of this variation lies hidden away in their internal structures, genetic material, and many biochemical processes, which can be explored only with the aid of microscopes and biochemical techniques.

- 579.2 PAN Panno, Joseph. Viruses : the origin and evolution of deadly pathogens. New York : Facts on File, 2011. Discusses the origin and structure of viruses, as well as insight into recent viral pandemics, such as SARS and swine flu.
- 579.3 BAC Bacteria and viruses. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2011. This book explores today's understanding of the harmful effects of bacteria and viruses, what roles bacteria and viruses play in diseases, and how the fields of microbiology and biochemistry become more challenging as scientists process more information.
- 581.3 CLO A closer look at plant reproduction, growth, and ecology. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book details the habits and survival methods of plant life on Earth.
- 590.1 CLO A closer look at the animal kingdom. 1st ed. [Chicago, Ill.] : Britannica Educational Pub., 2012. This book surveys the various members of the animal kingdom and the habits, behaviors, and physical characteristics that unite and distinguish all animals.
