Delivering Hope, Courage, and Inspiration

Like you, Duke Pieper, knows what its like to be discounted by everyone around you. To run up against challenges that feel insurmountable. And to have moments where challenges were winning. But then Duke recognized a single truth that changed everything.

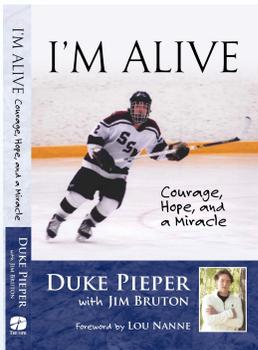

Peak performers have no excuses for failure; only reasons for success.

After several stellar high-school seasons Duke was ranked by U.S.A. Hockey as one of the top 20 best players in the nation. His first varsity game he was diagnosed with a Cavernous Hemangioma. He had a five present chance to live. He overcame those odds and was then faced with total paralysis. He had to re-learn how to do everything allover again from walking to talking, eating to breathing.

Now that he has recovered from almost certain death, Duke Pieper is now sharing his story, lessons, and the type of motivation that sparks an individual to overcome the impossible and excites your attendees to come back for more.

When Duke is on the platform you will have the knowledge and skills needed to take the proven path away from the pack and into the peak performer's spotlight.

Make your goals a reality. Motivate your team with powerful content from a power speaker – Duke Pieper

Testimony

As I sit with some downtime at work I am at a point in the book where Duke talks about "Adapting". He says if you don't have a positive attitude with what life can throw at you, you can count on pretty much being screwed.

Good words to live by as I am dealing with some tough pain issues right now and have been told I need to have neurosurgery. The book is helping me deals with my own issues and I just really wanted him to know how much he has once again helped another person with his words of wisdom. So thank you for sharing your story with me.
